VOLUME XIII

COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY SEPTEMBER 7, 1910.

NUMBER 44

Kentuckians in the West.

To The News:

A few lines from Oklahoma might be interesting reading, especially coming as it does from a former Russell county boy, but now a Carter county Oklahoma. We have recently had an election here and I will tell you who was elected to fill some very prominent places in the State for our country. Lee Cruse, was nominated on the Democratic ticket for Governor. He lives in Ardmore and is a former Crittenden county, Ky. boy, and his nomination is equivalent to his election.

M. F. Winfrey was nominated for County Judge of Carter county. He is an Adair county man, and his office will pay about $300.00 per annum. Carter county has two Representatives in the State Legislature and both are Kentuckians. J. B. Champion, of Crittenden county, Ky., and your writer, who is from Russell county, Ky., William Kirkpatrick, from Monroe county, were elected County Commissioners, and I could mention many other former Kentuckians who will fill prominent places in this State had I the disposition to intrude upon your valuable time.

Suffice it to say that the Kentuckians are holding their own wherever found, and they have played a very conspicuous part in shaping the politics of this wonderful new State. The above is not written in a spirit of egotism, but I just wanted our old playmates to know that the boys from the Cumberland, and the Green River sections are making good. Crop conditions here are well high perfect. Success to the Dear old News.

Coming.

We are authorized to state that M. L. Clark & Son's big Wild West Show will exhibit at Columbia about the 30th of this month. The bill posters will be here in about 14 days. The coming visit will be the third time for the Clark shows to make this place in the last five years.

Birthday.

August 24th being Mrs. R. P. Breeding's seventy-seventh birthday her friends gave her a surprise card shower. As she received ninety-nine cards, it is not to be expected that she will read them personally, but all who sent cards may rest assured of the fact that they were appreciated; certainly if they could have seen her she enjoyed them they would all be more than repaid for the little time they spent in writing. To know Mrs. Breeding is to love her, as she never tires of doing anything that is conducive to the happiness and welfare of others. In fact her past life has been spent this way, and it is to be hoped that the future has in store for her as much sunshine and happiness as she has imparted to others. That she may enjoy many more happy birthdays is the wish of.

Her Friend.

Death of a Well-Known Citizen.

The intelligence of the death of Mr. Robt. J. Stapp reached this place last Monday morning. The end came at his late home on Casey Creek, near Ryle, last Saturday afternoon, after a short illness. He was in Ryle Friday afternoon, making some purchases, and left for his residence feeling in his usual health. Upon reaching home he became suddenly sick and a physician was called, who decided the affliction was peritonitis. The physician did everything in his power to bring relief, but the patient gradually grew worse, dying at the time above stated.

The deceased was quite an old man, perhaps seventy-five years old, and was a good citizen, known to a great many Adair county people. He was once here as a jurymen, and was familiarly called "Uncle Bob" about the courthouse.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon and were largely attended.

ADAIR CIRCUIT COURT.
J. S. Stapp's Estate, Pl'ff.

J. S. Stapp's Widow & heirs, Defs. In obedience to a Judgment rendered in the above styled action, I will on Monday, September 19, 1910, at the Court-house door in Columbia, sell at public auction for cash, all the unpaid accounts as shown by the books of J. S. Stapp & Sons, livermen, and the books of the Columbia Spectator which are owned by the estate of J. S. Stapp, deceased. James Garnett Executor.

44-21 of J. S. Stapp.

Mr. Coy E. Dugdon has removed from Casey Valley to Columbia. Himself and family are occupying Mr. L. C. Hurt's residence on Greensburg street.

The Greensburg Game.

Time about is fairplay. Our boys went to Greensburg last Saturday and came out victorious. The game was witnessed by a large crowd and perfect harmony prevailed. The following is the result:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R H E
Greensburg 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 1 0 2 4 5
Columbia 4 0 0 1 0 4 0 2 0 11 13
Batteries for Greensburg, Marshall, Steve and Cox; Columbia, Judd and Holladay; 2 base hits T. Judd, Judd, Young, Hancock, Dunbar, 3 Cox; 3 on balls, off Marshall 2, off Steve 3. Struck out by Judd 3, by Steve 2. Umpire, Durham.

Just Right.

The following from the Harrodsburg Herald is stated correctly:

The man who gets into his head just right that he should attend to his own business and not worry so much about the other fellow, will live equally as long, and die fully as happy, and possibly have a little better time going through the so-called "vale of tears." There are people who have nothing else to do but criticize the clothes worn by their neighbor; people who gossip about other folks and forget that their own back yard is full of tin cans and dead cats; people who want to reform the whole universe and who need reforming themselves. The world is all right—some of the hills are a little steep—but if you attend to your own business and let the other fellow attend to his, unless you are invited in either as a friend or on a salary, there will not be so many discordant notes in your life. So long as a man leaves you alone, leave him alone.

44-21 J. O. Hurt.

Kinross, Iowa.

Adair County News: I enclose you herewith draft of $1.00 for which kindly send me The News for one year.

I am enjoying the best of health, and have been successful in banking here so far, however selfishness has not overpowered me enough but that I think of my Russell and Adair friends, and the playing was exciting from start to finish, resulting in a victory for Greensburg, the score standing six to five. The green county aggregation were a fine set of young men, their deportment was excellent. They were both in commendation of the entire community.

Respectfully,
R. G. Woods

Public Sale.

On Wednesday, the 5th day of October, 1910, I will sell sixty head of fine young jersey cows to the highest bidders. The cows will be fresh in December and January. The sale will take place in the town of Columbia.

44-21 J. B. Barbee.

A dispatch from Greensburg, sent out Saturday, says: Mrs. Charles Stultz, of Summers had a narrow escape from horrible death yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Stultz was ill and her husband was a considerable distance from the house in the field at work. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon some neighbors noticed the Stultz house on fire and, after giving an alarm, hastened to the burning building and found Mrs. Stultz soundly sleeping. The flames were extinguished but the building was damaged several hundred dollars. The husband of the lady, as we are informed, is a brother of Messrs. T. R. and Geo. F. Stultz, of this place.

The one hundred and sixth annual session of the Russell County Association will be held at the Baptist church at Milltown, Adair County, Ky., on the 14th and 15th days of September, 1910. The session will be called to order promptly at 10 o'clock a. m., September 14th, and all the messengers are earnestly requested to be present by that time.

Mr. Marshall Yarberry Dead.

The death of the subject of this notice, which occurred at his late home, two miles from Columbia, Friday evening at 8 o'clock, was not unexpected. He had been in declining health for about one year, and for the past two months his condition was critical, his wife, son and physicians having no hope of his recovery. He was first taken with dropsy, consumption following.

The deceased was born and reared in Adair county and was about sixty-five years old when he died. He was the father of Hon. M. Rey Yarberry and had a wide acquaintance over the county. His son, who is in the revenue service, reached his bedside two weeks ago and constantly attended him until the final dissolution. His faithful wife sat with the son and the tenderest care was given the husband and father.

Mr. Yarberry was a law-abiding citizen and had been during his entire life, dying at peace with his God and leaving no enemies. A kind and sympathetic man gone to his rest.

The funeral services were held late Saturday afternoon, conducted by Eld. Z. T. Williams, and the interment was in the city cemetery. Many friends attended the last sad rites.

The News joins the people of Columbia in extending to the widow and son deepest sympathy, admiring them for their loyalty to God and their loving care for their father.

New Order.

Pensioners who live in the country as well as rural mail carriers will be interested in the new order just sent out by the Postmaster General. The order authorizes the rural mail carriers to administer the order acquired of the pensioners and their witnesses. This eliminates their coming to town to make out their vouchers. The fee of the rural carrier can not be over twenty-five cents, and although this is small there are some carriers who have a large number of pensioners on their route, and it will mean quite a little sum in the course of a year. Many an old soldier will be pleased to hear this news for it will save him many a long drive to town. Now he can deal with his mail carrier at his own gate.

PREACHING NEXT SUNDAY.

W. H. C. Sandidge, Ebenezer.
F. J. Barger, Mt. Pleasant.
Z. T. Williams, Columbia.
J. A. Johnston, Gradyville.
J. H. Root, Mt. Carmel.
J. P. Turner, Red Lick.
W. J. Levi, Tammam creek.
B. M. Currie, Columbia.
S. P. Stapp, Providence.
T. E. Ennis, Greensburg.
W. S. Dugdon, Milltown.

In the rush to write up the paper last Monday, we unintentionally overlooked the ball game played between Greensburg and Columbia the day before the Fair opened. The Greensburg boys arrived in due time and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon the game was called and the playing was exciting from start to finish, resulting in a victory for Greensburg, the score standing six to five. The green county aggregation were a fine set of young men, their deportment was excellent. They were both in commendation of the entire community.

For Sale.

Three pure bred Aberdeen Angus bull calves, 6, 8 and 10 months old.

W. L. Walker

Rev. R. M. Currie went to Cloverport last week and met his wife and children. The little daughter, Mary, who had the misfortune to get her left arm broken, in this place several months ago, was carried to Louisville with the view of an operation. After Dr. Currie examined the fractured arm, he decided not to operate, and gave his opinion that it would eventually come all right.

Mrs. Currie and her two children are now at the home of her parents in Hopkinsville county where they will remain until after Conference.

Mr. J. Tandy Ellis, of Lexington, a reader and impersonator, entertained at the court-house last Saturday evening. The program was made up of humorous and pathetic selections, and it was well rendered. The old time negro songs brought down the house and his other numbers were soul touching. Mr. Ellis is not on the platform, and entertains to please his friends.

Mr. W. T. McFarland met with a very painful accident last Tuesday. He was at the home of Mr. E. H. Hughes, doing some carpenter's work, when a plank fell, striking him on the forehead, cutting a very severe gash. It was so painful that he had to quit his work for awhile.

A Suggestion.

The county board of education did the wise thing by arranging with the graded school to teach the pupils of the county who are eligible to the High School course. Such an arrangement, permanently made, will save the county, in the long run, a large amount of money, and redound alike to the interest of the county and town by making one strong institution where all the aspiring youth of the county can be very thoroughly educated. This can be done now by what may be called a minimum outlay by the county.

In the county of Russell, we understand they are arranging to erect a building at a cost of some ten or twelve thousand dollars for the purpose of the High School. Adair county fortunately, can avoid this expense by co-operating with the graded school already existing at the county seat, and by so doing avoid a large part of the current expenses required to pay teachers, and otherwise provide for needs of the school.

The graded school having purchased the old Columbia J. & F. High School building is very fortunate in having a desirable location for the school, but there is one thing more needed—the dormitories and ground attached to them ought not to be severed from the school building.

Either the county or town, or both, acting together should secure these buildings to be used in connection with the school. As the school grows, and no doubt about it, growing in prosperity and popular favor, it will need them, and need them very much, and the opportunity to get them should not be lost. It is especially to the interest of the county to have them if it is the purpose of the school board of the county to co-operate with the trustees of the graded school, instead of putting up buildings and running an independent school.

A Card of Thanks.

I want to express my gratitude to our neighbors and sympathizing friends for their kindness and help to us during the illness and death of my father, J. H. Root, who died August 13, 1910. I hope to be able to repay this kindness in some way to our friends. With a heart full of gratitude to our friends, I am, sincerely,
Frank Speer

For Sale.

If not sold privately before the third Monday in September, first day of circuit court, I will at the court-house door, to the highest bidder, sell my residence, and 18 acres of land, in the corporate limits of Columbia, situated this side of the Fair grounds. The property will be sold for cash in hand. One-half acre will be reserved.

44-21 M. C. Hudson.

Mr. E. F. Roe, of Sparksville, has left at this office a ear of corn, this year's growing, fourteen inches long and faultlessly shaped. The grains are round, the cob being closely fitted. When you take into consideration that Mr. Roe lives on a ridge and that his entire crop is almost as good as the sample, the people of the county need not fear that meal will be scarce this winter.

By reading the article, headed "Kentuckians in the West," it will be seen that Mr. M. F. Winfrey, a former citizen of Columbia, has been nominated by the Democrats of Carter county, Oklahoma, for County Judge. The nomination is equivalent to election. The position pays $3,000 a year.

From this on I will stand my Bull for $1.00. Money to be paid at the gate.

44-21 Sam Mitchell.

Rev. J. R. Crawford will preach on the Bible teaching regarding "The Tithes" on next Sunday morning. The open air service will be held in the yard of M. Antie's home, Bonar Heights at 5:30 p. m. A cordial invitation to all to attend these services.

Mr. A. O. Baker, of Amandaville, was in Columbia last Friday and secured the services of Mr. J. G. Eubank to paper his dwelling which has just been completed by the carpenters. It is a large two-story building, finished in the latest style. Mr. Eubank will go to Amandaville in about a week to paper the rooms and halls.

A large barn owned by Mr. Geo. Akin, Sparksville, was struck by lightning last Sunday afternoon and almost destroyed. There were two head of horses in the barn, but they were not hurt. Mr. Akin and another gentleman had just left the building.

I have some good seed wheat which I will sell at $1.25 per bushel.

44-21 J. E. Tappan.

Cane Valley, Ky.

Opening of The Lindsey-Wilson.

Quite a number of pupils were enrolled at the Lindsey-Wilson last Monday. The institution was properly opened this morning. Pupils will arrive daily for the next few weeks, and by frost the buildings will be well-filled. We understand from the principals that they will have more pupils at the dormitories this session than in any year of the past. There are ample accommodations for all who will come, and the sooner students enter the better it will be for them. The institution has a splendid faculty, and every teacher is at his or her post.

Preaching at Baptist Church.

Rev. D. H. Howerton, of Burnside, Ky., will preach in the Baptist church on Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week instead of Thursday and Friday nights, a former announcement. Everybody invited to attend these sermons.

Graded School Begins.

The Columbia Graded School began its second year week Monday Sept. 5th. Promptly at 8:30 o'clock Prof. Wilson called the school to order. The opening exercises were conducted by Rev. J. R. Crawford of the Presbyterian church. After the exercises he gave one of his best talks to the students. All the School Board and many patrons were present to witness the opening. Mr. Summers made a very helpful talk, then Prof. Wilson told the students and patrons he was glad to again be with them, and gave them some idea of what the students would be expected to do.

There were one hundred sixty-five enrolled. The school with its excellent faculty promises to be a grand success. Before the week ends there will doubtless be two hundred names on the roll.

Editor News:

As I never see a letter from this particular "neck of the woods," I will proceed to write you a few lines. We have had a very hot, dry summer. The thermometer registered 114 in the shade one day, but it has been cool for the last two or three days. Most letters I see in the News from this western country are sugar coated to a great extent. There are a great many people that fall in love with a country and believe in boosting it. While I like this western prairie country, and like to live here in many ways better than in Kentucky, Old Kentucky, my birth place, especially the people, there have a warm place in my affections that no other people can take. This country has its draw backs as well as good points. The Springs are always windy and disagreeable. The Summers nearly always hot and dry, especially July and August; and there is seldom a good corn season, that is, in this part of Oklahoma. It is a fine place to raise small grain. I raised 22 bushels of wheat to the acre, and 61 bushels of oats to the acre, but my corn is almost a total failure, -owing to the hot winds in July. I had a prospect for 60 bushels of corn to the acre and you who have never experienced it can't imagine the feelings that creep over a man when he has 60 or 70 acres of corn and see it wilt and fall. Twenty-four hours of hot winds like we had in July is enough to put the fixings to a corn crop.

I expected when I came to Oklahoma to find a great fruit country, but this year is the third crop of apples that Oklahoma has had since the opening up of the country. The old settlers tell me there is plenty of apples and peaches this year, while last year not an apple or peach could be found in the country around here. In this part of Oklahoma we have just as good water as you can boast of in Kentucky. It is a more healthy country than Kentucky. Not so much fever and you can sleep out doors on the ground and not take cold any time in the Summer and Fall. I have been awakened lots of times by rain falling in my face and never have had a cold from sleeping out doors.

Another thing I like about Oklahoma is one man can farm 160 acres very easy except in harvest and you don't have to work but thirteen months in the year. One man can put out 70 acres of corn and tend it if he will work, and if he don't want to do that my advice is for him to stay away from Oklahoma. Wages are high and everything you buy is higher here than in Kentucky except plug horses, and you can get them at your own prices. Wheat is 85 to 88 cents a bushel at present, oats are about 30 cents and corn, there isn't any. Well I suppose the Fair is over and everybody had a good time. I would have enjoyed being there fine to see old friends and W. L. Grady's string of fine Peacocks. You don't see such horses in the Fairs in this country.

Since I left Kentucky there has been several deaths of men and women that were well and hearty when I last saw them.

It makes me feel sad, and still sadder to think how many more may be called before I come back.

Well Mr. Editor here is a dollar, another year's subscription to the News. It is received and read with eagerness each week.

So I will quit with three cheers for James Garnett.

Respectfully Yours,

Loe Bryant.

Not Satisfied.

Auditor Frank P. James is not satisfied with the way the Assessors of the Kentucky counties made up their reports this year and he will insist that they be made up more complete and in accordance with the law next year. The amount of money with corporations, other than banks, is given at $188,766, and the Auditor and State Board are inclined to think that this amount is too low.

The amount of cash deposited with individuals is given at $93,164, which is another low water figure. The amount of all other credits or money on interest is fixed at $488,253, and Auditor James thinks this is another low figure. A good many of the counties do not report on these figures at all.

The amount of stock in joint stock companies or associations is given at $1,428,994, and the amount of stock in foreign corporations is fixed at $1,120,885. It is almost an even bet that if the real facts could be secured there are individuals in this state who own as much as $1,000,000 in joint corporations or associations, and many who own as much as $1,000,000 of stock in foreign corporations.

Latin-American Trade.

Do you know that the total foreign trade, exports and imports, of the 21 Republics, including the United States, in 1907 was $5,500,000,000?

Do you know that of this, the share of the 20 Latin American Republics was $2,077,000,000?

Do you know these figures show that Latin America does more than one-third of the total commerce of the American Republics, divided as follows: Exports to foreign lands, $1,072,000,000; imports from foreign lands, $1,005,000,000?

Do you know that further analysis of these figures show a total foreign trade between Latin America and the United States of $568,000,000?

Do you know that this total represents only about one-fourth of the total foreign trade of the sister Republics of the United States, divided as follows: Exports to the United States, $318,000,000; imports from the United States, $240,000,000?

Do you know that these figures show a balance of trade against the United States of approximately $78,000,000 a year?

Do you know that the Latin American countries bought last year from other nations than the States $756,000,000?

Do you know that from the United States these countries purchased only $240,000,000?

Do you know that Latin America purchased more than three times as much from other countries as she did from the United States?

This demonstrates the great possibilities of trade development for the United States in Latin America.

Charged with Murder.

Fanny Washington was arrested at Maysville, last Thursday afternoon charged with murdering her eight-month-old child. Wednesday night she reported to the police that an unknown negro man had assaulted her on the Fleming pike just outside the city, and had thrown the child into a pool of water.

The officials started an investigation and found the dead baby in the creek. She held to her assault story, but at the coroner's inquest a verdict was rendered that she had killed the child by drowning. She was placed under arrest and locked up without bail.

Presidency Within His Grasp.

It is a fact that Bryan had within his grasp the Presidential office in 1896. For one full hour that great opportunity stood knocking at his door, and he failed to grasp it and it fled, it seems forever. When he was nominated in 1896 the convention proceeded to nominate a vice-president, and on the fourth ballot, John R. McLean, of Ohio, was within a few votes of the vice-presidential nomination. If Mr. Bryan had permitted the nomination of McLean, who was worth $50,000,000 at that time, it is said that McLean would have freely given $2,000,000 of his money and would have raised from one to two million more, this would have carried Bryan into the White House on high tide. The lack of which defeated him. At the commencement of the fifth ballot of the Democratic convention Bryan gave it out that he would not accept McLean as a running mate and that settled it and Sewall, of Maine, was nominated, who was a mill-stone on the Democratic ticket, and while a millionaire, was also a "tight wad." J. R. McLean is now worth $75,000,000, and has joined what is known as the "People Be Damned" class on millionaires.

Money Makes the Mare Go.

Col. R. L. Ewell, Republican nominee for Congress in this district, certainly does not believe in purity in politics. He attended the State Central Committee in Louisville last week and made a speech before that body, during which Senator Bradley almost "sweated blood." The old gentleman must have reached the senile period of life, and it may be that his own party will choke him off before he further disgraces himself and brings a blush to the mental physiognomy of his party friends. This is what the Louisville Times has to say of his speech, before the State Central Committee:

"In a speech by Richard L. Ewell, candidate for Congress on the Republican ticket from the Eighth Congressional district of Kentucky, Mr. Ewell said that the way to turn Democratic votes into the Republican fold, was to spend money 'judiciously.' According to Mr. Ewell, it will be an easy matter in his district to change the 1,600 Democratic majority into the Republican column, if $10 bills and fifty-cent pieces are distributed where they will do the most good. 'There is more than one way to get a vote,' explained Mr. Ewell to the committeemen. 'Money, if it is used right and at the proper time, is an excellent argument for the Republican party. The only thing necessary to encompass the defeat of the Democratic party this November is to get more votes than the Democrats. I do not say that the practices of the olden days, when money was used freely, should be resorted to, but I do know that that was a mighty effective manner of turning defeat into victory.' Senator Bradley was anxious and ill at ease during the time Mr. Ewell was expressing his plans for defeating the Democratic nominees for Congress this fall in Kentucky. As soon as Mr. Ewell, the seventy-eight-year-old candidate of the Eighth district, finished talking, Senator Bradley said that it would be advisable to exclude the press and all disinterested parties from the meeting. When put in the form of a motion it was carried without a dissenting voice."—Herald.

Woes of a Bashful man.

A bashful young man in town was invited out to dinner. He was very much agitated. He sat opposite a mirror and discovered that he had forgotten to comb his hair. Then he dropped his fork on the floor and as he stooped to pick it up he upset his coffee. Matters went from bad to worse, until finally in despair the young man quit eating and put his hands under the table. The loose end of the table cloth was lying in his lap. He thought it was his shirt and that he had forgotten to put the garment in his trousers. He hurriedly stuffed the supposed shirt inside his trousers. Afterward when the family arose from the table there was a crash. The dishes lay in a broken mass on the floor. The young man pulled three feet of tablecloth out of his pants and flew to the woods.—Exchange.

Female Apparel.

Female costume in the tenth century was classical in its simplicity. The woman wore long, loose, flowing skirts reaching to the feet and a draped "cote," or upper garment. Chaucer, who died in 1400, when Henry IV was king, frequently uses the word cote. In the "Canterbury Tales" he depicts the sergeant-at-law as wearing a "medley cote," which no doubt means a coat of many colors, while the miller he describes as wearing "a whyte cote."

It was in the fourteenth century that the word "gown" first came into use. An anonymous author in no mild words finds fault with the fashion of his days. He writes that the "commons were besotted in excess of apparel, in wide surcoats reaching to their Lyons, some in a garment reaching to their feet, close before and strouting out on the side, so that on the back they make men 'seem women, and these they call by a ridiculous name—gown."

As early as the twelfth century women's cotes were made with trains, and in the first quarter of the thirteenth century a bishop moralizes early on their vanity for wearing trained cotes, some of which contained "seven ells and a half."—Westminster Gazette.

Who is a Gentleman.

One of the leading journals of the country has been conducting a little public inquiry as to "What is a gentleman? Who is a gentleman? Why is a gentleman? Some of the answers are very interesting, showing how diversified are the ideas on this mooted question. Many of them still leave the question unsolved, for instance: "A gentleman is God's perfect type of man." This gives us cause to inquire about the "perfect type," and there we are again.

Here is a good answer: "A gentleman is a manly man, with at least a reasonable degree of intelligence, who lives as nearly as possible a truly Christian life. If he is all this, he will possess all the lesser essentials."

And this: "A gentleman is one who is as gentle as a woman and as manly as a man." Or this one from a woman: "Several years ago I read in a book of an old lady, who said: 'The word gentleman comprises all of morality and a great deal of religion.' I thought the definition perfect and mean to instill those words into the training of my two little boys."

A longer one goes more into detail: "A gentleman is he who is never mean or little in his disputes. He never takes an unfair advantage and never mistakes personalities or sharp sayings for arguments. He guards against unreasonable allusions or topics which irritate. He never speaks of himself except when compelled and never defends himself by a mere retort."—American Boy.

Corn is King.

Official estimates for August, as made by the Agricultural Department at Washington, show that corn is still king, with a promise of the largest crop ever raised, notwithstanding big losses last month west of the Missouri river. Despite losses of 220,000,000 bushels last month, the crop promise now stands at 2,940,000,000 bushels, or just 13,000,000 bushels more than the bumper crop of 1906. Oats also have distanced the previous bumper crop by 13,000,000 bushels, promising 1,022,000,000 bushels, against 1,006,353,000 bushels last year, which was the first time the oat crop of the United States ran into the billion-bushel class. Except for serious scorching in the Northwest, the present crop would have shown up phenomenally, providing of course, that the recent excellent filling, maturing and harvest weather in the big producing states had not been marred. Winter wheat, however, furnished a surprise even to the most optimistic, although it was known to everybody that the grain was of magnificent quality and was weighing out handsomely. Its preliminary showing, as given in figures by the department, is for a yield 12,000,000 bushels larger than that of last year, and put this year's crop as second largest in the country's history, the crop of 491,000,000 bushels raised in 1906 being first. The losses shown in spring wheat a month ago measured virtually all of the crop loss of the year. The spring wheat crop is small enough to pull the total wheat production down to 669,000,000 bushels, a total which has been beaten five times in the last decade.

Why Hogs Root.

It is said by observers that a hog roots in the ground for alkali which aids him in digestion. Nature helps him out in this way when man is foolish enough to neglect him. In the amount of carbonaceous feed that we feed the hogs, there is too little phosphate for them. Anything that we throw to the hogs whether lime, bones or oyster shells seem to be greatly relished and seem to be a great help to them in digesting their other feed, and promoting their general health. Tankage is an excellent feed to prevent the sows and pigs from having an apparent craving for uncommon feeds like bones, old leather and also killing chickens. It also aids them in getting more nutriment out of their other feed by keeping them in a healthy condition. A good plan is to satisfy the craving for "something different" by planting a patch of artichokes, which will give them their fill before putting them on clover or grass.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

All Right in Theory, but Breaks Down in Practice.

Theoretically there is so much in municipal ownership of public utilities that the practical carrying out of its attractive features appears simple and of no serious moment, and for a municipality to take over and run water, lights, sewerage and even transportation appeals to taxpayers, and the trade is made without the first assurance that the conduct of these properties will be along practical and business lines.

It is the failure to assure the practical that works the evil, for municipal ownership is a general ownership, and a general ownership results too easily in its being no special business of any citizen or taxpayer to look into or inquire after the conduct of the properties under control. This leaves the management to a few, who soon find that they have only themselves to account to, that people are too busy to demand accountings and taxpayers accept any kind of report, just so there is the appearance of all being right and light, water, sewerage, etc., are given.

It is this indifference and neglect on the part of taxpayers to take note of municipal affairs which make municipal ownership of public utilities a hazardous and expensive matter. The theory of municipal ownership, with its great saving to each taxpayer, the extra service given and the great profits resulting, can only be placed in figures before them, but it is a failure unless the taxpayers shall give earnest and serious heed to the conduct of these public utilities, for unless this is done they will wake up some day with broken down properties and a big bond issue to make good—Newbern Weekly Journal.

THE GREAT TRANSITION.

Public Property Wasted Because "It Costs Nothing, You Know."

"Hello!" said I. "What's that?" And I stopped to pick it up.

"That?" replied the boy who happened to be passing through the school yard with me. "That is nothing but a lead pencil."

"But it is a whole one," said I, "and with a rubber on the end."

"I know it," said the boy.

"What? Do you mean to tell me that you have seen this here before?"

"Yes, everybody's seen it."

"All the children in your school have seen this lying here day after day and not one boy has picked it up?"

"Of course. What should we pick it up for? There's plenty in the school house. The town buys 'em."

And I had been given a text for a long meditation. Not pick up a whole new lead pencil? And a pencil with a rubber on it?

When I was a boy we picked every state pencil. A boy who looked anybody's state pencil was baited until he gave it up, but a lead pencil—we fought for it. We fought the Greeks, and the Trojans, for a lead pencil. We scored the countryside for old horseshoes to sell to the blacksmith for money enough to buy a lead pencil, but we left it, we kept our private mark on it, guarded it, we cut it as our last resource in trade. Many a time a precious two inch lead pencil has turned an important jack-knife trade one way or the other. I never had but one lead pencil at a time and very often hardly that one. It was fifteen years old. And these ten-year-olds soon to pick up a whole one with a rubber! Think of it! The best reason I had was a piece of rubber boot heel—Henry T. Bailey in Journal of Education.

A DAY OF RECKONING.

You Cannot Fool All of the People All of the Time.

The recent condemnation as unfit for further service of a number of gas and electric light plants, for this is the fate that is likely to overtake all such plants in the long run. For the first year or two, when no expensive repairs are needed and the plant is thoroughly up to date, it ought not to be difficult to make a good showing. For a few years longer the bad bookkeeping and inadequate reports, that are unfortunately the rule rather than the exception, may blind the citizens to the deteriorating of the plant and to its increasing losses. But the day of reckoning inevitably comes when breakdown, bad service or demand for new equipment will not make excuses as "extensions" causes an investigation, and then it becomes evident that the plant has been a losing proposition almost from the start. No plant should be accepted as evidence of successful municipal management until it has been operated for several years and then examined by expert engineers and accountants.

Carelessness, Not Greed.

At a local government board inquiry held at West Ham, London, to sanction the borrowing by the corporation of £2,000 for electricity extensions it was stated that the electrical undertaking up to the present had resulted in a loss of £7,200, which had been charged to the rates. The inspector pointed out that loans of some thousands of pounds had been sanctioned by the board for purchasing various machines, and he found the council again asking for money to buy machinery for which they had already received the cash—Morning Post.

The movement for municipal ownership in this country is a hunt by the magazine for a new issue to catch votes—Melvin O. Adams.

Frail Women

So many women are dragging out weary lives just because their digestive organs are weak. The result is poor circulation, nervousness and the verge of invalidism. It is often very unnecessary and the woman's own fault.

The first thing to do is to look to the weakness of your bowels. There the trouble usually lies. All physicians know that a large percentage of women are habitually constipated, and from this results indigestion, piles, weariness, etc.

But women constantly complain that there is no use taking "female remedies" because they do not seem to have started your bowels to moving.

Nervous Women

For nervous, tired women, we recommend Cardui. Cardui is a woman's medicine. It acts specifically on the female organs and has a tonic, building effect on the whole system. It contains no harmful ingredients, being a pure vegetable extract. If you suffer from some form of female trouble, get Cardui at once and give it a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. W. W. Gardner, of Paducah, Ky., tried Cardui and writes: "I think Cardui is just grand. I have been using it for eleven years. I am 48 years old and feel like a different woman, since I have been taking it. I used to suffer from bearing down aches, nervousness and sleeplessness, but now the pains are all gone and I sleep good. I highly recommend Cardui for young and old." Try it.

CHAS. S. HARRIS EDITOR.

Democratic newspaper devoted to the interests of the City of Columbia and the people of Adair and adjacent counties.

Entered at the Columbia Post-office as second class mail matter.

WED. SEPT. 7 1910.

The population of the United States is 90,500,000. The population of the City of New York 4,600,000; population of Chicago 3,400,000.

Republicans of the Fourth district have nominated Dr. D. W. Gaddie, of Larue county, to be voted for in the race for Congress against Hon. Ben Johnson.

J. C. Crump, while temporarily insane, cut his wife's throat at McKinney, Ky., then went out in his yard and slashed his own throat with the same knife. Crump died instantly and it is believed that his wife was fatally wounded.

Politicians in all parts of the country are eagerly waiting for the outcome of to-day's primaries in Vermont as being indicative of the way the political wind is blowing. Unless the Republicans show a majority of 25,000 it will be accepted as indicating unrest through the country.

Col. Roosevelt in his speech at Osawatimie, Kans., announced his political creed. He aligned himself definitely with the progressive wing of the Republican party and declared himself in favor of a wide increase in power of the National Government. He declared for a "new nationalism," as he termed such an increase in Governmental power.

The Census Bureau has prepared the following authentic estimates of the population of Kentucky in 1910, based on the 1900 census: Kentucky, 2,453,713; Louisville, 240,160; Bowling Green, 7,599; Covington, 52,325; Frankfort, 11,082; Henderson, 16,034; Lexington, 31,171; Newport, 31,684; Owensboro, 16,308; Paducah, 24,475.

In a speech at Sioux Falls, Ia., last Saturday, Col. Roosevelt made his first reference to the Taft Administration since returning from Africa. The former President indorsed the president's tariff commission and his work which resulted in tariff agreements with foreign countries. No other phase of the Administration was touched upon. In a speech at Sioux Falls, S. D., Col. Roosevelt again spoke on the tariff.

Mr. Roosevelt has made his play to the western Republicans, practically accepting every departure made and demanded by the progressives. He even surpasses the most rabid as he openly criticizes the Supreme Court and takes other positions that lead to extreme ends. While he seems to be increasing his power and prestige in the broad eratic West he is evidently losing in the conservative East. By the time his party will be forced to decide for a candidate to succeed President Taft—we believe that Teddy will not be the most powerful man in his party.

Hon. D. C. Edwards, the present Congressman from the Eleventh district and a candidate for renomination, spoke to an audience of not less than six hundred voters at the courthouse Monday afternoon. He was introduced by Judge H. C. Baker, who spoke for twenty minutes, eulogizing Mr. Edwards as a citizen and his record in Congress. Mr. Edwards spent considerable time in reviewing his record as a Congressman and appealed to his audience to exercise judgment instead of sentiment in selecting a nominee. His defense against what he termed charges made by Mr. Powers, was backed by documentary evidence and brought to light a Congressional Record of which his party supporters may well admire. The many letters read, bearing the signature of his opponent, exploded the theory that Powers had been consistent with the many who had contributed money to his relief while in jail. Throughout the speech was well received.

Mr. Caleb Powers, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in this district, spoke to a fair crowd, probably two hundred people, at the courthouse Tuesday afternoon of last week. He was introduced by Mr. M. Rey Yarberry, who announced that he was for Mr. Powers. Mr. Powers occupied the stand for two and a half hours, telling his hearers why he should be nominated over Mr. Edwards. He was repeatedly applauded during the course of his remarks and we take it that his followers were well pleased with his speech.

Hon. J. Proctor Knott, a gifted son of Kentucky, and the most popular Congressman whoever represented a district, the idol of the people of Marion county, the pride of the entire Commonwealth, a constitutional lawyer, who in his prime had no equal as an advocate, celebrated his eightieth birthday at Lebanon a few days ago. His record as Governor is stainless, and the same can be said of his acts in all other positions he has filled. A life full of honor, at peace with God and all mankind, he is contentedly waiting for his last promotion, to a place where briefs are not written, where bills are not introduced and where the pardon has been granted before the going—where peace and joy forever reign.

We the Big Creek Church and Sunday School passed the following resolutions of respect:

Whereas, on August the 28th, 1910, it was the divine will and pleasure of the Grand and loving Savior on high to whom we must all bow in humble submission to call from our church and Sunday School our beloved pastor and teacher, Rev. J. N. Walbert, and

Whereas, Big Creek church was caused to give up, by death, a faithful pastor and a devoted Christian whose loss is felt to the fullest extent by this church and Sunday School and by his beloved companion and six little children, therefore be it

Resolved, that in the death of Brother Walbert Big Creek and the community suffered the loss of a loving pastor of early manhood and much promise to the cause, a man of excellent moral character and of the highest order of legal and business integrity.

That we, the Church, School and community deeply deplore the early death of our pastor and brother and his removal from the paths of usefulness, and we hereby extend to the parents, companion and children of the deceased our deepest sympathy. But while it is our loss it is his eternal gain.

He was born April 19th, 1881, professed faith in Christ in August 1903, united with the Grace Union Baptist church soon afterwards and was ordained to the ministry July 1904. He was also a Master Mason and was buried by the Fraternity.

Resolved that these resolutions be spread at length upon the records of the Church and Sunday School and printed in the Adair County News, and that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased.

TROUBLE AHEAD.

When gentle woman goes to vote—
They say the time is coming—
As certain as that cork will float
Or as a bill for plumbing
She'll always vote her ticket straight
And never, never scratch it.
For that would spoil it, sure as fate.
She'd feel she'd have to patch it.
Her gloves will have to match her hat.
Her gown be tailor-fitted
And of the latest mode at that.
'Twill have to be admitted
That when fair woman goes to choose
And cast the ballot cunning
From picture hat to dainty shoes
That voter will be stunning.
But should the tailor fail to send
The new gown as directed
The charming dame will never lend
Her aid to the elected.
What use is woman's suffrage, pray,
With which the age is humming,
If gowns upon election day
Are old or unbecoming?

ADMIRAL INVENTS CRAFT
FOR LAND AND SEA USE.

Howells of Torpedo Fame Predicts
Many Uses For It.

Experiments are being made at Bath, Me., with the Amphib II, a unique craft built for Rear Admiral John A. Howells, U. S. N., retired, which is designed for use on land as well as on sea.

Rear Admiral Howells, who was the originator of the Howells torpedo, experimented with a similar craft a year ago, but the results were not just what he wanted, so this second craft, considerably larger, has been built, and there is great interest manifested in her trials.

The craft measures twenty feet long and six feet beam, while she has a tall ten feet in length. She is equipped with a single cylinder ten horsepower engine, which will send her along, it is hoped, at the rate of seven miles an hour in the water or twelve miles on land. Mammoth thirty-six inch wheels are situated forward of amidships of the craft and another in the tail of the craft, thus giving the boat the general appearance of a tri-cycle.

Buckets are attached to the forward wheels for use in the water, while there is also a small propeller, which is situated on the port side, for auxiliary service in the water. There is also a small controller in the tail which acts as a rudder for steering the craft either on land or on the sea.

Admiral Howells will take his craft to the mouth of the Kennebec river, where she will be tried upon the sands of Popham beach, and she will also be given trials at Old Orchard, and if she works satisfactorily she will be taken to Long Beach, N.

Mr. Howells believes that such a boat has many uses. It could be used as a surfboat at life saving stations, while it could also be used by sportsmen gunning along the coast, who could sail on the water or go upon the beaches at will.

WORLD COINAGE PLANNED.

Leipzig Savant to Explain Trade Expansion Idea in Berlin.

Professor Wilhelm Ostwald of Leipzig university, one of Germany's most distinguished savants, who lectured at Columbia and Harvard universities in 1905, has originated a novel project for a universal world coinage.

He has been invited by the Merchants and Manufacturers' association of Berlin to make the first public exposition of his idea before that organization some time in September or October. The association will ask leading bankers and exporters to attend the meeting and join in the discussion as to the practicality of Professor Ostwald's proposals.

The scientist's general idea is that the commerce and intercommunication of nations would be immensely facilitated and simplified by the adoption of a money system and coinage common to the whole civilized world.

Professor Ostwald holds his honorary degrees from the leading universities of the world.

WAR ON HAT SALUTES.

Darmstadt Society Says It's French and Unpatriotic.

"Why raise your hat?" is the motto of the Society for the Promotion of German Modes of Greeting, whose headquarters are at Darmstadt. It is a wasteful habit, the society urges, because it wears out the hat trim. It is unpatriotic because in bad weather it is apt to bring on colds. And, worst of all, it is unpatriotic, for the custom was adopted from the French, the first nation in Europe to bare the head as a form of politeness.

The true mode of greeting for Germans, the members say, is the military salute, which is of purely Teuton origin, having originated among the officers of the Prussian grenadiers.

The society has gained many adherents, and the idea of greeting of Darmstadt are now accustomed to see elderly civilians stand rigidly at attention and bring the hand smartly to the forehead when they meet acquaintances in the street.

Comin' Back There.

For stoical indifference and taciturnity," said a young man from Knoxville, Tenn., who was visiting in the city a few days ago, "I never saw any one that could equal the Kentucky mountaineer.

"Two years ago I was camping during the summer with a party of young men and women in the mountains. During our stay there we became acquainted with an old mountaineer, whom we called Sam. He always referred to his wife as Maria and we fell into the same habit.

"Last year we returned to the same place to camp. As we were going up the mountain path on our first day out, we met Sam walking along apparently in a deep study.

"'Hello, Sam,' we all called. 'Where's Maria?'

"She's comin' back there," he said, directing his thumb backward over his shoulder.

"We went on up the mountain path and a short distance farther came upon a party of mountaineers transporting a dead body in rickety wagon. It was funeral party. Imagine our surprise when we were informed that the deceased was Maria. Sam had not thought it worth his pains to inform us that Maria was dead when he stated she was comin' back there."—Louisville Times.

Jottings of the Poultry Yard.

It is generally true that short-legged fowls fatten a great deal more quickly than long-legged ones.

It is easier to keep fowls in a good condition than to allow them to run down and then build up again.

Nest-eggs are not needed to induce hens to lay. They have no influence whatever over the hens, and have been discarded on most farms.

Nests in the poultry house are preferred by the hens, if the nests are comfortable, but when the houses and nests are filthy they will seek laying places outside.

Treatment of diseases should begin with the first symptoms. The chances for effecting a cure are then greater, and the disease may also be kept from spreading.

Fowls are very fond of wheat, but they should not be allowed too much of it. An excess of this raw grain will very frequently induce a looseness in the bowels. A ration of about one-fourth wheat will be sufficient of this grain.

The object of caponizing is to improve the quality and quantity of flesh of fowls. As a result of his more peaceful disposition, he continues to grow and his body develops more uniformly and to a somewhat greater size than a cockerel of the same age. A capon also brings a better price per pound.

Ducks are not so good field foragers as turkeys or chickens; their short legs and flat, web-footed feet retard their movements. They get much of their necessary exercise on water. Ducks are very desirable fowls to raise, however. They are exempt from many diseases to which other poultry are subject, and are hardy and quick growers.

Don't Break Down.

Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause break-downs. You can't over-tax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run-down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters the matchless, tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. finest Burley tobacco that I ever saw.

It has been estimated by good tobacco growers to make two thousand pounds to the acre, and it is in fine condition. Messrs. Rupe and Fudge certainly know how to raise tobacco. One man who used to raise tobacco in Hart county said that this was the finest crop of tobacco that he had seen since he had been in Adair county.

I will say now that the buyer who gets this crop will surely have the best tobacco that can be found in the county.
